Now for the town's salvation And future reputation, We counsel moderation, But charge the population To end this agitation By voting strong negation. A. KICKER.

Something to be Proud Of. The people of Vallsburgh in their fight against appexation say;

"We are proud to point to the fact that our school facilities are second to none, and we firmly believe that if annexation had been accomplished at the time the movement was started some five years ago our school would have received a set-back and would not be in so good condition as it is to-day. We also wish to call the attention of all the citizens of the Borough of Vallsburgh to the fact that the High School facilities which we now enjoy will not be improved in any way by annexation. Every child in the borough can now get the benefit of the best High School education without any extra expense or cost to their parents.

Patriotic Vailsburghers.

The Home Government Association was organized in Waish's Hall, Valleburgh, Monday night. Its objects are to retain self-government and oppose any proposition to annex to Newark. The leaders in the Citizens' Association
